

Have Some Hours to Burn? Let Us Help!

Spending a few hours in downtown Greenville and want to make the most of your limited time here? Whether you're visiting for the weekend, planning to move to Greenville, or just want to spend a few hours trying something different, we've put together a list of our favorite local attractions.

Mice on Main

Main Street

Mice on Main is a fun scavenger hunt that spans throughout downtown Greenville. Along Main Street from the Hyatt to the Westin Poinsett Hotel, nine different bronze mice sculptures can be found. Follow along with the Mice on Main book (sold at local stores and online) for a truly unique and exciting experience!

This is a great way to spend a couple of hours exploring and getting to know the downtown area, especially if you have younger children with you.

The Swamp Rabbit Trail

22 miles of multi-use trails

Spanning 22 miles along the Reedy River, the Swamp Rabbit Trail is a local favorite. Here, you'll find a well-kept recreational trail where you can enjoy a leisurely bike ride along the river. If you don't have a bike of your own, the city offers a B-Cycle program that allows you to rent electric bikes for short distances.

The trail is a great way to get around town while avoiding the hustle and bustle of the city streets. During your time downtown, consider renting a bike from Bike the Rabbit or Reedy Rides.

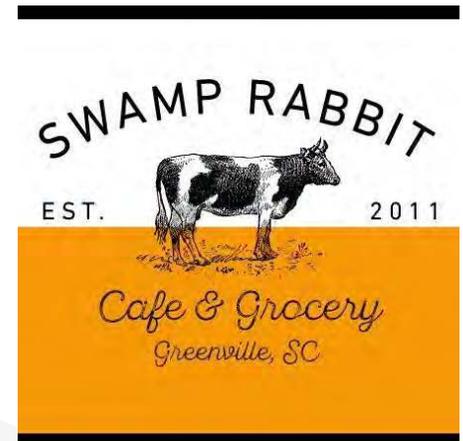

Swamp Rabbit Cafe and Grocery

205 Cedar Lane Road

After your time biking the trail or scavenging for mice, stop and grab a bite to eat at the local Swamp Rabbit Cafe & Grocery. Here you will find a variety of good-for-you options. This location also offers “Cook Local” cooking classes where you can learn how to prepare amazing dishes in the comfort of your own home.

They’re also always holding special events throughout the year, so there’s sure to be something fun going on during your visit. For example, every Wednesday night during the month of October, you can enjoy a free outdoor yoga session; just bring your own mat!

Falls Park

West End of Main Street

Another local favorite, Falls Park is located in downtown Greenville’s Historic West End community and truly has something for everybody to enjoy.

Have a picnic at The River Lodge, a popular parkside stone shelter, or check out one of the many restaurants located within the park such as Mary’s Restaurant or Passerelle Bistro. For something quicker, visit one of the coffee and ice cream shops throughout the park.

There are endless spots within the Falls to relax, unwind, and enjoy the natural beauty around you. Both paid and free two-hour parking can be found on Main Street.

These are just a few Greenville gems worth checking out during your time in Downtown. From scavenger hunts and biking trails to parks and free yoga classes at the local cafe, there’s always something exciting going on. That’s the beauty of living in this amazing city!
