Welcome to Greenville! We know you'll love the friendly community and vibrant cultural scene that are hallmarks of our city. As you prepare for your move, please consult this guide detailing many of the services and providers that you will need to make your new house a home in Greenville.

Utilities

Duke Energy Company is the largest electricity service provider in the Greenville area. There are also some options for energy co-operatives that you may want to consider for your service as well.

In Greenville, Piedmont Natural Gas and the Greenville Water System are the providers of gas and water service.

Trash and recycling services are handled by the City of Greenville if your home is located within the city limits, or Greenville County if it is outside. Many subdivisions and newer downtown multifamily communities are contracted with a third party trash service, so make sure to check what applies to you prior to moving in.
